

Day 3 – “Show & Tell”

After two days of going through a FLKL, on day three the participants have time to reflect on and give meaning to what happened and what they’ve learned, and to reflect on how their view on the future shape their current actions.

Furthermore, this day is used to make the FLKL experience even more personal by focusing on students’ personal view on the future and the way this view is being influenced by past experiences, values, ambitions.
